

Thank you for your interest in our Dietary Managers Correspondence Course. I am pleased to provide you with this course brochure and application. After reading the course description and requirements, simply complete the application, obtain the necessary signatures, and submit it to us by fax or mail at the number or address listed on the application. Then order your textbooks as directed on page 2 of the brochure*. Be sure that you indicate your preference for receiving the course in the traditional way by mail, by CD-ROM or online.

If you have done some research on dietary managers courses, I'm sure you will find that the correspondence course offered by UND has an excellent reputation, and is well respected in the industry. It also offers this exceptional course at an exceptional value. Graduates of our course have higher passing rates on the national certification exam than students completing other comparable correspondence courses.

The demand for Certified Dietary Managers is growing at a fast pace. You will be able to enhance your career options by completing a dietary managers course, and passing the national certification examination to obtain the title of Certified Dietary Manager, or CDM.

The Dietary Managers Association is the national accrediting body for our course. For more information about a profession as a Certified Dietary Manager, check the website of the Dietary Managers Association at www.dmaonline.org. Naturally, if you have questions for us at the University of North Dakota, please call our office (toll-free) at 877-450-1841, email to courses@mail.und.nodak.edu or check our website at www.conted.und.edu/certificates for more information. I will look forward to hearing from you.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in cursive script that reads "Becky Rude".

Becky Rude, MS, RD, CDM, CFPP
Program Coordinator